

Matric Farewell Photoshoots

I love this time of year, Matric Farewell season is in full swing and I just love to see the gorgeous young couples and breathtakingly beautiful dresses.

This is such a special time and there is a lot of energy in the air.

For many the Matric Farewell is one of the most important days of their school year. For some it's just before the final exams at the end of the year. And how else would one want to bid farewell to your school but in glamour and style.
